Biography

Jill Hoogendyk has spent 35 years helping people realize the dream of home ownership by assisting in securing mortgage financing. In 1986, she and her husband opened their own mortgage company where she was responsible for overseeing all activities of the company including compliance, training and supervision of all employees as well as being a top producer.

Jill loves teaching. She is a certified trainer for the Mortgage Bankers Association and was a 2008 Better Business Bureau Ethics Award Finalist. She recently became a Certified Referral Trainer through Referco, Michael Mayer's (Seven Levels of Communication) company. She teaches many different courses in mortgage finance including pre-licensing classes for loan originators and continuing education for loan originators and real estate agents.

Jill is currently a Branch Manager for InterCap Lending with licenses to do business in Arizona, New Mexico and California. She loves encouraging sales people to respect themselves and what they have to offer the world and tries to do this in as many interesting ways as possible.

Jill has been married to Michael Hoogendyk for 39 years and is the very proud mother of Kimberly Hoogendyk-Yawn, Zachary Campbell-Hoogendyk and Carly Hoogendyk. There is no doubt that she considers her family her greatest accomplishment in life...just ask her!
