Biography

Ron Roberts

Ron obtained his real estate license in 1980 but, after practicing for over a year he joined the United States Air Force and served as an instructor/flight examiner for airborne maintenance (electronic warfare) technicians on the EC-130H Compass Call aircraft. Of the nearly 3,000 hours of flying time he spent over 600 as an instructor/evaluator and countless hours in the classroom. In 1991, following Desert Shield/Storm he was honorably discharged and became a REALTOR®.

Since that time he has been involved in nearly all aspects of real estate and started teaching in 2007. He has been engaged in the sale of homes, land and some commercial. Ron has also been a designated broker for large and small firms, as well as, a homebuilder. He has earned the CRB, CRS, GRI and ePro designations, as well as, the ABR which he does not maintain. He has taught for several schools and local REALTOR® associations. He is the past president of the Scottsdale Area Association of REALTORS® (2005) and has served on the Professional Standards Committee since 1996. Ron is the Managing Broker for Realty Executives.
